STRUGGLING CHILDREN

Is your child

STRUGGLING

at school?

at home?

with friends?

with self-esteem?

Many children and youth struggle at school and at home with emotional, learning, perceptual, and/or behavioural difficulties.

These difficulties are not a result of individual weakness, poor upbringing or lack of effort. They are usually caused by neurological, environmental and/or biological factors.

Difficulties in children and youth may range from mild to severe, and are found among all socioeconomic, cultural ethnic groups.

"Children do well if they can...
if they can't,
we as adults need to figure out why so we can help."

Ross Green, Ph.D.
